

ALLSECURE GLOBAL AN APPLIED MITIGATION SCIENCES COMPANY

PERSONAL EMERGENCY PREPAREDNESS SOLUTIONS FOR AFFLUENT FAMILIES WORLDWIDE

The question for you is very simple - If a terrorist attack, pandemic outbreak, or other catastrophic disaster occurred right now, what would you do?

If you do not know the answer to that question, you should. Your life and the lives of your children and loved ones depend upon you being able to answer that question, immediately and without hesitation.

If you can't answer the above question, you should be prepared to answer the next question.

Namely, what will you miss the most? Your home? Your children? Your way of life?

In a crisis, we can literally help save your life.

It is just that simple. No hype, no bull. If a catastrophic event happens, we can literally save your life and your loved ones.

We provide crisis and disaster preparation, asset preservation services, executive and travel services, evacuation services, safe house programs, college/exchange student preparation, expatriate services, yacht and jet preparation, and many other personalized offerings. We also provide crisis behavioral training, enabling you to react quickly and appropriately in a crisis situation.

Our world is changing, and not for the better.

Unfortunately, the reality is that our world is changing. It is becoming more dangerous and more unstable. Governments are increasingly becoming less able or willing to respond to threats and to protect their citizens.

Whether it is the collapse of the world's economic systems, the instability of the U.S. - Mexican border, brazen commando attacks in India and Pakistan, the ability of North Korea or Iran to launch nuclear missiles, the resurgence of the Taliban and Al-Qaeda, or a nuclear armed Pakistan teetering on the brink of collapse, our world is changing - and not for the better.

The time to protect yourself is now.

Through our “Premier” level service offering, AllSecure Global provides confidential, risk-based emergency preparedness and lifestyle preservation solutions to a very limited number of individuals and families worldwide. Our services are for people who want the very best to protect themselves and their families. People who know that the time to act is now, before the unthinkable occurs. People like you.

Safety. Security. Confidentiality.

Due to the extremely sensitive nature of the services that we provide, we take all possible steps to insure the confidentiality of our clients and the services provided. We understand that our clients require and demand the utmost levels of personal security and safety, and the utmost in discretion and confidentiality. We provide all of these as the cornerstones of our services.

Our clients include governmental leaders, military officials, journalists and others who have "insider" knowledge of the threats we face. They include your friends and your neighbors. They have taken steps to prepare for the worst.

Have you?

Our Services.

Our services are specifically tailored to address your needs, the needs of the high net worth individual and family. We provide you with state of the art contingency planning, disaster preparedness, incident management, and basic survival training.

As part of our services, our operational support specialists provide you with the necessary equipment and resources to deal with any hazard or crisis situation you may face. We also give you instruction and training that will hone your “survival attitude”, enabling you and your loved ones to react quickly and appropriately to a given crisis or emergency situation. Everything is provided to you. Nothing is left to chance.

Designed to fit your needs.

In short, our goal is to keep you and your family alive and well-off in the event of a disaster or catastrophic event, whether manmade or natural. We take into account the specific requirements of your family members, your assets and their location, your current security solutions, cultural preferences and hundreds of other decision points to give you and your family a customized preparedness and lifestyle preservation solution.

Preparedness for every situation.

We prepare you and your family for various crisis situations including the following:

- Natural and Man-Made Disasters.
- Biological Attacks and Incidents.
- Chemical Attacks and Incidents.
- Radiological Hazards, including Dirty Bombs and Nuclear Accidents.
- Pandemics, including swine and bird influenzas.
- Social Unrest and the breakdown in the Rule-of-Law.

You will have the resources, training, and mental preparation to survive in any given crisis situation. Our clients consider our services to be their “personal safety net”.

Thinking the “Unthinkable”.

In addition to having the proper resources, equipment and training, the single most important thing you can do to survive a disaster is to be mentally prepared.

In order to effectively react to a disaster without becoming overwhelmed, you must be able to understand the risks you face. It is difficult for most people to imagine a world where fresh water does not flow from the taps, electricity is something that comes sporadically if at all, and the grocery store shelves are empty - assuming the stores are even open. It is even harder to imagine a world where there is no social structure, there is no “help” coming, and the only person you can rely on is yourself. But imagine it you must.

Over the years, we have found that it is an effort for most people to “think the unthinkable”, to contemplate scenarios which are far outside the routine of their daily lives. However, those that do not contemplate all possible scenarios will find themselves unprepared should a crisis occur. We help you to prepare for the “unthinkable” and to react in a manner that will help save your life.

We look forward to serving you.
